

| Organic Potato Day 2019 - Pre-Order  |   |   |                      | Total Price @ 20p each |
|---|---|---|----------------------|-------------------------------|
| Saturday 2 February, 10am - 2pm. KSCC, Abbey End Car Park, Kenilworth CV8 1QJAdmission free, refreshments available.Please use this form to pre-order your seed potatoes for collection on the day             |   | Blight Resistance● Tuber ● Leaf  | No. of Tubers |                               |
| First Early  | CasablancaAvailable to harvest in about 8-9 weeks. Chefs and cooks will love the versatility of the potato Casablanca. Good for all uses from boiling and chipping to mash and roasting.   | ●●●●●●●●●   |                      |                               |
|   | ColleenFast growing to harvest June/July. An all rounder – good in the kitchen and good in the ground. High disease and pest resistance give this white tuber a high yield and good appeal to all growers looking for a bountiful early harvest.   | ●●●●●●●●●●●●●●  |                      |                               |
|   | Maris BardA cream skinned and white fleshed oval tuber, producing a medium waxy potato which holds its shape, making it good for boiling and chipping, and a delight in salads. Fast growing and high yielding, with a plant of berries and violet flowers.  | ●●●●●●●●●●  |                      |                               |
| Second Early   | BambinoShort oval tuber with white skin and cream flesh, great salad variety. Lovely salad potatoes with a smooth light waxy texture. Great organic grower due to high blight, scab and blackleg resistance.   | ●●●●●●●●●●●   |                      |                               |
|   | CharlotteKnown to be larger than most salad potatoes the Charlotte is a long oval tuber which is commonly boiled by chefs although roasts well too. It grows well in rich soils and has a healthy flowering plant with good tuber resistance to blackleg.  | ●●●●●●●●  |                      |                               |
|   | Maris PeerA mid sized potato with good disease resistance which can be grown easily in a shady spot in the garden or container. In the kitchen cooks like its versatility of being good boiled and eaten hot or cold or even cooked as wedges.   | ●●●●●●●●●●  |                      |                               |
| Early Main   | AmboA good looking predominantly white skinned tuber with patches of pink colour. Popular with growers for its good blight and scab resistance the plant produces a high yield of floury potatoes which can be boiled or baked.  | ●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●  |                      |                               |
|   | OrlaA great plant and product loved by many for good reason. Large white tubers of high blight and scab resistance which can be harvested early or left to bulk up. In the kitchen they can be used for most cooking methods – from baking and mashing to chips, boiling and roasting.               | ●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●   |                      |                               |
| Maincrop   | CaraGardeners love Cara for its high levels of resistance to drought, blight, common scab and viruses. One of the best hardy growers, the tubers are white and round with shallow pink eyes. In the kitchen they are good for baking and chipping.   | ●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●  |                      |                               |
|   | DesireeLarge oval tubers which bulk up early combined with high yields make this a small growers favourite. Reasonable resistance to viruses and blight too. In the kitchen cooks love them – pink skinned with firm yellow flesh they are one of the most versatile potatoes in the pantry.         | ●●●●●●●●●●●   |                      |                               |
|   | RecordRough yellow skin covers this often mis-shapen oval tuber with yellow mealy flesh. Welcomed by growers for its blight resistance it is favored in the kitchen for chipping and roasting mainly but can be boiled and baked too.  | ●●●●●●●●●●●●●●  |                      |                               |
|   | RobintaMaincrop red skin variety with smooth oval consistent tubers. One of the leading red varieties in the organic market due to its blight resistance and good cooking qualities. Produces good crop of red skinned, cream flesh potatoes ideal for salads and boiling.                           | ●●●●●●●●●●●●●   |                      |                               |
|   | SetantaAnother red tuber which doesn't suffer blight easily making it ideal for organic and allotment growing whilst still appealing to large growers for high resistance to blight and blackleg. In the kitchen there are few more versatile, good for baking, boiling roasting, chipping and mash. | ●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●   |                      |                               |
|   | Name :Address / Contact details:  |   |                      | Tubers                 |
|   |   | Order total:   |                      |                               |
| Please email your order to ross@heog.org.uk - or return this form toHeart of England Organic Group, 6 Waverley Road, Kenilworth, CV8 1JNTel. 01926 852135 / 07788 300179 |   |  |                      |                               |